Senator Fox's Bill and a New Election for Aldermen and Comptroller.

THE CHAMBERLAINSHIP ABOLISHED

Testimony Before the Senate Committee as to the Supply Bill.

THE STATE APPROPRIATIONS.

The Appointment of General Porter a Cause of Political Discord.

ALBANY, March 2, 1875. Rumors are prevalent here to-night of a rupture between Mr. John Kelly and Mayor Wickham on pending movements relative to the Costigan bill, and also on the appointment of General Porter as Commissioner of Public Works. Those who seem know something of the inside workings of Tammany Hall assert that an attempt is in progress on the part of Mayor Wickham to gain possession of the Committee on Organization, the gentleman being bent on carrying out his doctrine of "no man's man;" it is also as-serted that Mr. Kelly was not consulted on the appointment of General Porter, and that this neglect has also widened the breach. Mayor Wickham's tenacious position of adherence to home rule principles, is said to be materially impaired by the selection of a resident of New Jersey for the important position vacated by Mr. Van Nort. Then it is rumored that a compromise has been resorted to by the Mayor with republican Senators with the intention of securing the passage of the Costigan bill. An agreement is also said to have been proposed by which one republican will have a place upon each of the Commissions. This is the take among politicians assembled at the Delavan to-One fact is clear, that great dissatistaction exists among the democratic legislators from New York as to the selection of General Porter for the important position of Commissioner of Public THE FIFTH AVENUE PAVEMENT.

To-morrow we are to have an attempt to bring up the Fifth Avenue Pavement bill and pass it through the House. THE PRO RATA PREIGHT BILL.

The Pro Rata Preight bill, it is also expected, will come up for debate, as the Railroad Committee have been restricted to one week in which to

The legislative proceedings of to-day were decidedly dreary. Tuesday is set down by the rules of the Assembly as a time for taking up general orders, and the time of that body was consequently occupied in the discussion of measures already introduced. A NEW BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

Senator Fox to-day introduced a bill providing for the election of the next Board of Aldermen by Assembly districts, one from each district. The Board will then consist of twenty-three members, including the annexed new wards of Westchester. The term of the Aldermen will last two years in-stead of one, as now specified. The salary is set down at $3,000 per annum cach instead of $6,000. The partial cumulative system of voting as now constituted is abolished. The clause giving to the Aldermen additional powers as Super visors is retained. The proposed enactment of Senator Fox, it is claimed, will insure a more general and just representation than at present.

Fox, it is ciained, will insure a more general and just representation than at present.

MOVING AGAINST COMPTROLLER GREEN AGAIN.

Senator Fox will to-morrow introduce a bill which, it passed, will effectually dispose of Comptroller Green as an omical. It provides for the election, in November next, o a Comptroller, who shall be head of the Flasnce Department and exercise, except as otherwise directed in the bill, all privileges of the present Comptroller and City Chamberlain, subject individually to the liabilities of the present incumbents. The new officer is to hold office for five years from the ist in January next. The salary is set down at $10,000 per year, and the Comptroller must give bonds to the Mayor and Aldermen for the laithful perform-ance of his duty to the amount of $2,000,000.

and an in day to the amount of $2,000,000.

The same bill transfers from the authority of the Finance Department, Bureau of Licenses and bureau of Markets to the control of the Mayor, who shall have power to appoint and remove all officials in those two offices.

Mr. Daly has a bill, which he will to-morrow infroduce, preventing the use of salt, saltpetre or other similar substance in the streets of New York. Such act is made a misdemeanor under the proposed law. Accompanying the bill is a petition signed by John J. Astor, August Belmont, A. T. Stewart, C. Vanderbilt, Oswald Ottendorfer, Charles A. Dana, William H. Wickham, Abram S. Hewitt and others, asking for its passage.

MONEY TO KUN THE STATE GOVERNMENT. STATE C

MONNY TO RUN THE STATE GOVERNMENT.
The bill to provide for support of the State government was under consideration in the Assembly to-day. The following are among the most important items of appropriation:

For State Prisons, $300,000.
For expenses of National Guard, State of New York, $275,000.
For expenses of Board of Pilot Commissioners,

New York, $4,500.

For Society for the Reformation of Juvenile Delinquents in the city of New York, $40,000.

For the care and support of State paupers, For the support of common schools of the State,

For the support of common schools of the State, $2,712,000.

Some debate arose on the item of $275,000 appropriated for the support of the State National duard. It appears that an increase of $75,000 has been made in the appropriation since last year. Messrs, bessar and Waehner spoke against the amount of the appropriation, and Mr. Husted expinined that the main reason for the increase was a proposition to erect rife ranges at different localities throughout the State.

The entire appropriation was sustained by a large majority vote.

THE SUPPLY BILL INVESTIGATION.

Further testimony has been taken before the Senate committee of investigation as to the aleged improper insertion or the item of the salary of the new Capitol Superintendent in the Supply

Senate committee of investigation as to the aleged improper insertion of the item of the salary of the new Capitol Superintendent in the Supply bill of 1874.

Senator Selkrey was sworn and testified:—I was one of the Senate Prinance Committee and one of the Senate Conference Committee on the Supply bill of 1874; the bill as it passed the Assembly appropriated $1,500,000 for the new Capitol; the principal contest in the Conference Committee was as to the amount of the appropriation and the superintendency of the work; finally Mr. Weed drew and handed to Mr. Wood a compromise; Senator Wood and myself examined it very thoroughly; that compromise was finally agreed upon and adopted; the Conference Committee adjourned about eight P. M. on April 29; when the conference Had closed it had not occurred to me acout the salary of the Senate had fixed that salary by its action; Senator Wood came into the Senate next moining, and brought in the Conference Committee's report, and laid it down for me to sign, mentioning at the same time that the salary of the Superintendent of the new Capitol had been inserted, to which I assented; the question of salary of Superintendent of the new Capitol was never spoken of within my knowledge or hearing in the Conference Committee, and, so far as I was concerned, it was entirely an oversight in its not being acted upon when we acted upon the other provisions; had my attention been called to it, I should have insisted upon it; the Senate, it seemed to me, had acted for us, and its action was unanimous; and when senator wood menuoned that the sanary had oeen inserted, it was fixed in my mind at $1,000 just as permanently as anything can be; Senator Wood and myself constituted a majority of the Senate Committee was performed by the clerks of the Committee was performed by the clerks of the Committee was performed by the clerks of the Committee committee.

mittee was performed by the clerkes of the Conserence Committee.

The Supply bill was lengthy and the amendments contained in the report very numerous, in order to re-engross the bill after it has passed, the Engrossing Clerk is required to distribute the various amendments and place them where they belong among the other items that have not been amended in the old engrossed bill. To avoid the delay this labor would cause I required the Conference Committee clerks to make a copy of each amendment embraced in the Conference Committee's report, and attach it to the old engrossed bill where the Engrossing Clerk would be required to place it when he came to re-engross the bill, after the amendments were adopted by the Legislature; the Conference Committee's rerequired to piace it was no came to be required by the Legislature; the Conference Committee's report, nevertheless, being the only authentic document to guide the cierx in re-engrossing that portion of the bill embraced in it, and is always to be used to verify the correctness of the re-engrossed bill; I saw no more of the Conference Committee's report, after it was adopted by the Senate, until the afternoon of Saturday, the second day after the adjournment of the Legislature, when, being in the Executive Chamber, the Governor, pointing to the Sapply bill, upon his table, said, "I have the Supply bill, upon his table, pose it is fight to sign it, is it not?" I answered, "I presume so, though I nave not compared it to see it it scorrectly engrossed, but will do so it you desire;" he replied, "A wish you would;" I at once made an appointment with colonel De Kay, the Governor's Secretary, to assist me in comparing it on the next day at my room; comptroller Hopkins was present at the time, and eit with me, and on the way out expressed a desire to go through the bill with us, as he might wish to inquire about some things in it; i proposed we should go over it that evening; immediately after tea the Comptroller and myself commenced comparing the re-engrossed bill with the Conference Committee's report; and found everything correctly engrossed until we came to the item relative to the payment of counse; employed to assist District Attorneys, from which two lines had been dropped out in the re-engrossed bill. We noted the error and passed on until mail-past eleven o'clock and then into it asside until morning. The next morning Colonel De Kay came with the Comptroller, according to appointment, and assisted in comparing the remainder of the bill. We found no other error in it, except in the new Capitol item, where we found the sainty clause of of the Superintendent omitted in the re-engrossed bill. I at once Said:—"I can understand how this error occurred." I then stated to them that the item was inserted in the Conference Committee's report by myself and General Batcheller, after the report had been completed by the clerks, and that I omitted to attach a copy of it to the old engrossed bill, and that I had no doubt the engrossing clerk had re-engrossed the bill irom the old engrossed bill, without referring to the Conference Committee's report, as he should have done. The making of these copies of the amendments contained in the Conference Committee's report, and attaching them to the did of engrossed bill without referring to the Conference Committee's report, and entirely to expedite the re-engrossing of the bill; if this voluntary lator the did of engrossed bill and enference committee, but was volunteered simply and entirely to expedite the re-engrossing of the bill; if this voluntary into the doubt we had attach

THE LIQUOR LAW.

HOSTON, Mass., March 2, 1875. The House to-day, by a large majority, refused to pass to the third reading the Liquor Law bill, it is generally believed that this will kill the measure, so are as this session of the Legislature is concerned.

SHOCKING OFFICIAL STUPIDITY.

An Innocent Paralytic Sent to the Island to Lose His Life.

Was He Beaten While in Prison ?- Commence ment of the Coroner's Inquest.

of certain city officials has just come to light which has resulted in the death of an innocent On the 20th of February, about ten o'clock P. M., Jacob Stockvis, of No. 1,961 Third avenue, had for some time been slightly deranged, was arrested by Officer Fallen, of the Nineteenth precinct, and taken to the station house. Upon his DATES OF DEPARTURE FROM NEW YORK FOR THE arrival questions were put to the prisoner, to all of which he remained dumb. A charge of tetoxication was made against him, and upon being brought before the Court on Monday he was sentenced by Judge Flammer to six days he was kept, according to custom, in the Fifty-seventh street police station, and was then sent to the Island. His friends became uneasy at his absence, and, after an agonizing and fruitless search in the city, finally discovered his whereabouts by a mere chance. On Saturday last they secured his release and brought him home, where he died at three o'clock vesterday morning. An Mr. Stockvis left his nome in the morning in ap-parently per ect health. He had never been addicted to drink; but it seems that some time during the day he suffered from which suspended entirely his powers of speech and left him somewhat deranged. Upon being arrested by the policeman he was not able to articulate a word, and when taken to the station nouse late a word, and when taken to the station nouse could not reply to any questions andressed to him. The officer who made the arrest states that there were bruises about his face when he first saw him. Although the unfortunate man was clearly in an abnormal condition no step, were taken to give him medical attendance. By the accounts of the officials at the station house he laughed and looked in an idiotic manner, and as he was unable to speak his name was entered as John Doe, and as such he was sent to the Island. While at the station house or after his arrival at the Penitentiary he received the Injuries which resulted in his death. Accounts differ regarding it; but one thing is clear, that the unfortunate man probably by some leilow prisoner, while in the custody of justice. The keeper of the cells at the station house states positively that no one was ever in the same cell with the nurdered man, and if his account is correct the authorities of Blackwell's Island are responsible. Too much stress cannot be laid upon the fact that no physician was called in to pronounce upon the prisoner's condition when it was found he could not speak.

A PARALYTIC STROKE.

The argument at the Police Court was that he looked and behaved like a man recovering from a debauch, and that his appearance justified a suspicion of common vagrancy. Stockvis died at the nouse of Dr. Hirsch, his brother-in-law, No. 125 East Fifty-fourth street, and yesterday afternoon, at five o'clock. Coroner Kessler caused a postmortem examination to be held. A jury was empaneiled, consisting of the following gentlemen:— WAS HORRIBLY BEATEN,

In presence of the jury the post-mortem, by Dr. Leo, was attended with the following results:—
The external examination showed considerable ecchymosis, abrasions over the bridge of the nose, leit side of the face and over the leit knee and leg. The right arm was largely swollen, with marks of bruises over the upper arm, and errsipelas on the fore arm. The dissection showed extensive suppuration extending over the entire length of the leit arm. On removing the scalp, eccaymotic spots were discovered upon the trontal and parietal bones. The leit lobe of the brain was found slightly soltened; the other organs were in good condition. In Dr. Leo's apinion death was caused by exhaustion, induced by suppuration of the arm, and he supposed that the suppuration must have been going on for several tarks.

the case before summoning witnesses, and has expressed himsel very earnest to make a complete and thorough inquiry.

The officer who arrested Stockvis stated that he found him at the corner of Fity-seventh Street and Third avenue, acting in a wild manner, and it was with the utmost difficulty that he brought him to the station house.

The apparent imbecility and wildness of manner of the unfortunate main rendered it a difficult task for the officer to manage him. The keeper of the Police Court Prison states that apparently the prisoner was perfectly lidicity and that he preceived the greatest kindness, the general impression being that he was merely laboring under the effects of intoxication—a very usual occurrence at this prison. Nothing more serious was supposed to affect him than the ordinary results of a prolonged spree. A most important circumstance in this connection is that while the unfortunate man was in the prison the physician who was temporarily acting for the regular medical attendant was humself absent on account of the death of his father. Thus the deceased was left while there without any medical attendant was humself absent on account of the death of his father. A CURIOUS NEWARK COURT CASE.

There is now confined in the Essex County Jail at Newark, under very singular circumstances, a young man named Waiter G. Meyer, formerly of Morris county. Meyer is held for a debt of $3,000, contracted under the following state of alars:—In Morris county also dweit Joseph J. Roff. Roff had and has a daughter. Waiter and Miss Roff became so very intimate that a suit for seduction was inatituted against the former by the latter heather. Waiter was tried and convicted. He was ordered to pay $3,000. Being dollariess he applied for reflet under the hasolvent Debtor's act, sought the benefit of the Bankrupt act, and, pending the matter, went to live in Newark. Thither he was pursued by the relentess Roff, pere, and clapped into jail. There he has remained for several months. Yesterday the question of his release was argued in the Newark Court. The Judge took the papers and reserved his decision. Morris county. Meyer is held for a dept of $3,000.

SEVERITY OF JERSEY JUSTICE.

A WHOLESOME LESSON TO DEPRAVED YOUTHS. The trial of Michael Hessler for an outrage on the person of an old woman, named Mary Anne Gurney, was concluded in the Court of Quarter Sessions, at Jersey City, yesterday, by a verdict of guilty. Hessier and James Hardenberg and of guilty. Hessier and James Hardenberg and Frederick Heiner, a gang of depraved youths, went to the residence of the old woman on Sunday, the 18th of December. They ascertained that her husband was an inmate of the Hudson County Aimsbouse, at Snake thill. After some brief conversation they fastened the door, and seizing the aid woman throw her down, two of the fields notding her while the third accomplished his designs. Heiner made his escape and has not been caught, but the other two were arrested and lodged in jail. Hardenberg was tried and convicted two weeks aro, and as soon as a verdict of guilty was pronounced against Hessier jesterday both were called up for sentence. Judge Hoffman addressing them said they had been guilty of a crime almost as heinous as murder, and in their case he would make such an example as would not be forgotten by vicious youths in the country, lie then sentenced them to ten years each at hard labor in the State Prison. The prisoners, who labor in the State Frison. The prisoners, who were evidently unprepared for such a stroke of justice, were overwhelmed with dismay, and hardenberg looked the very picture of despair. He torned to his companion in woo, but before he could speak to him both were realeved by a constable to the jair.
